RE: Request to inform your society members of PENSA 2018

Dear Prof. Andre Van Gossum and Prof. Matthias Pirlich,

I and the Korean Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition (KSPEN) are honored to announce that the 19th Congress of the Parenteral and Enteral Nutritional Society of Asia (PENSA 2018), in conjunction with the 17th Annual Congress of KSPEN will be held from June 13-16, 2018, in Seoul, Korea.

This congress, the main event of PENSA, under the theme of "Innovative Nutrition in Global Health," will bring together approximately 1,000 medical doctors, dietitians, pharmacists, nurses, scientists, researchers and a variety of healthcare professionals for an exchange on the latest advances and practices happening within the parenteral and enteral nutrition research and clinical community.

The call for abstracts has just opened, and the abstract deadline is February 28, 2018. I cordially request your assistance with promoting the congress to your society members. For the first step, I would like to kindly ask for your help with the following requests:

1. Update your News/Events Page

Please refer to the attached congress overview and share the event details with your society members.

2. Web Banner on your Website

Please link the PENSA 2018 official website (www.pensa2018.org) to your society's website by using the attached web banner. If you need other sizes, please let us know.

3. Email Promotion

If possible, please share with us a list of your members' email addresses (we will use this list for congress promotion purposes only). Otherwise, please distribute the e-Newsletter link to your members on our behalf.

4. Request Information on Related Events

Please inform us of any related events (domestic/international) in your country, so we can announce the congress to their participants.

We would greatly appreciate your collaboration with any or all of these items. If you have any inquiries, please contact the secretariat any time. We heartily thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Ho-Seong Han, M.D., Ph.D

President of 19th Congress of PENSA
